

Visual Comparison of Temperature's Impact on Coated Panels

To illustrate the effect of temperature on coating performance, we selected a familiar visual reference - the eye test chart.

Below you see the eye-chart reflected from panels coated with material of varying temperatures.

As you can see the optimal dispense temperature for this coating was in the "Goldilocks zone" of 90°F.

Demonstrating the importance of Precise Temperature Control for optimal coating performance